Remote Work Policy

Document RMT-001 · Version 1.3 · Effective 1 February 2025 · Owner: Human Resources · Northwind Air

1. Purpose and scope

1.1 This policy explains when and how Northwind Air employees may work away from company premises.

1.2 It applies to office-based roles. Roles that must be performed at an airport, hangar or aircraft are not covered.

2. Eligibility and frequency

2.1 Employees may work remotely up to 3 days per week without approval.

2.2 Teams may set days when everyone is expected in the office for meetings and workshops.

2.3 Remote work arrangements can be changed by the company when business needs change.

3. Work location

3.1 Remote work should be done from the employee's home address on record.

3.2 Remote work from outside Canada requires approval from both Human Resources and Legal.

3.3 Employees must tell Human Resources if they move to a different province.

4. Security while working remotely

4.1 Multi-factor authentication is required for remote access to company systems.

4.2 Employees may access company email from a personal phone, provided the company device management app is installed.

4.3 Company files must be stored in approved cloud storage, not on personal devices.

4.4 Employees must not work on confidential documents in public places where the screen can be seen.

5. Equipment and costs

5.1 Employees receive a home office equipment allowance of CAD 500 once every 3 years.

5.2 The company provides a laptop and a headset to every employee approved for remote work.

5.3 Home internet and utility costs are not reimbursed.
