Crew Rest and Duty Policy

Document CRW-001 · Version 2.0 · Effective 1 February 2025 · Owner: Crew Scheduling · Northwind Air

1. Purpose and scope

1.1 This policy sets the rest and duty limits that protect Northwind Air crew from fatigue.

1.2 It applies to all pilots and cabin crew.

1.3 This policy replaces Safety Policy SAF-002, which was withdrawn on 15 January 2025.

2. Rest between duties

2.1 Crew must have the minimum rest in Table 2.1 between the end of one duty period and the start of the next.

Table 2.1 Minimum rest between duty periods

Sector type	Minimum rest
Short-haul	12 hours
Long-haul	14 hours

2.2 Crew must not report for duty within 8 hours of consuming alcohol.

2.3 Rest periods must be spent free from company duties, including phone calls and training.

3. Duty limits

3.2 Scheduling must not plan a duty period beyond the limit. Extensions are only for unforeseen operating conditions.

4. Standby and reserve

4.1 Crew on standby must be able to reach the airport within the reporting time set by Crew Scheduling.

4.2 Standby time that turns into flight duty counts towards the duty limit.

5. Fatigue

5.1 Any crew member may declare themselves too fatigued to fly without penalty.

5.2 Crew Scheduling must record each fatigue declaration and review repeated declarations for patterns.

6. Reporting

6.1 Crew must report safety incidents within 24 hours.

6.2 Reports are made through the incident portal described in the Incident Reporting Policy.
